

Please complete a written (pencil and paper) journal entry about your long weekend.

Make sure to use “Growing a Sentence” and the checkbric at the end, to help guide your writing. Take a picture of your work and email it to me! Or, better yet, put the picture into your Language Folder in your Google Drive. Email me to let me know that you have uploaded your work. Here is a quick tutorial reminder, on how to upload your work into a folder, in your Google Drive!

1. Go to the OCSB Student Portal <https://sites.google.com/a/ocsbstudent.ca/k-6/> and click on Google Drive.  You will have to log in using your student email and password.

2. Now you have a list of folders available. Click on the Language folder. Once the folder is open, click on “New” on the left hand side, and then either “file upload” (if you want to upload a picture(s) of your work, or “Google Docs” if you want to start a new doc and paste the picture(s) of your work in the doc.

3. If you choose to put your picture into a Google Doc, once you have created a title for your doc (My Weekend Journal), click on the insert image icon and choose where you want to insert the picture from.

4. The document saves automatically, and I can view the work you’ve done!

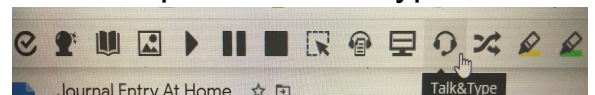

5. Send me an email so I know you have sent me something to see in your Language folder!

AFTER: After you have completed a written journal entry, feel free to start a google doc and practice typing, or voicing in another written piece of work! Don’t forget to use the

Google Read & Write purple puzzle piece to help with “talk & type”, “word prediction”, playing back what you’ve written etc...

Try adding more detail in your journal entry. Follow these steps to make your sentences more interesting.

Growing a Sentence

What: I played outside.

When: Yesterday morning, I played outside.

Where: Yesterday morning, I played outside in my backyard.

How: Yesterday morning, I played outside in my backyard with my basketball.

Why: Yesterday morning, I played outside in my backyard with my basketball because it was finally sunny!

Sentence Writing Checkbric:

Sentence Criteria	Consistently	Usually	Sometimes	Rarely
Start with a capital letter (beginning of a sentence or a name)
End with a punctuation mark (. ? !)
Written in lowercase letters (unless a name or the beginning of a sentence)
Have a finger space between words
Have common words and word wall words spelled correctly
Have sounds of unknown words represented by appropriate letters
Written neatly on the line and begin at the margin and stop at the end of the given line
5+ complete sentences that make sense
Sentences are connected to the related topic
Details enhance the quality of sentences				